Animal Environments       Human Environments

A Reading group in Environmental Humanities | spring semester 2013

We will investigate various concepts of Umwelten (environments) and their implications for our understanding of humans and animals and their interrelations. We will read classical reflections (e.g., von Uexküll, Heidegger, Agamben, Berger, Singer) and familiarize ourselves with the traditions of posthumanism and philosophical anthropology.

For further information, please get in touch with Bernhard Malkmus (.1), Germanic Languages & Literatures, or Lewis Ulman (.1), English.

illustrations from W.G. Sebald, Austerlitz